Prepare both a summary paragraph of significance and a general statement of history and support.

The Dennis Thomas (Gue) farmhouse is significant to Montgomery County because it remains as a typical example of the vernacular architecture constructed in the county from the mid-nineteenth through the early twentieth centuries. The house is believed to have been built by William R. and Edna Gue about 1913.¹ The house sat on 30 acres of land tracts referred to as "Duvall's Resurvey" and "Hartley's Lot." William and Edna purchased the land for $700 in September of 1912 from their neighbor, Alice Burns, who had bought 94 1/4 acres in 1896.²

The Gues lived in the house for many years, finally selling it along with the full 30 acres in December of 1960 to Walter T. Bryan.³ Then in July of 1965, Walter sold the house on 2.1737 acres to the present owner, Walter N. Argenbright, Jr.⁴ The house however has lost most of its architectural integrity over the years due to renovations and the placement of aluminum siding over its original exterior.

¹ Date is based on the land purchase date and the date that the land appears on the tax records with improvements to it.

APPENDIX A

SITES NOT RECOMMENDED FOR REGULATION UNDER THE HISTORIC PRESERVATION ORDINANCE CHAPTER 24A OF THE MONTGOMERY COUNTY CODE

The following sites have been reviewed by the Montgomery County Historic Preservation Commission and were found not to merit designation of the Master Plan for Historic Preservation. If not included in the Master Plan, these resources may be removed from the Locational Atlas and Index of Historic Sites in Montgomery County. If removed from the Locational Atlas, the sites will no longer be governed by the Moratorium on Alteration and Demolition, Section 24A-10 of the County's Historic Preservation Ordinance. The sites will, however, remain on the Maryland Historical Trust's Inventory.

The following sites were found by the Preservation Commission to be too greatly altered from the period of their architectural or historical significance or not to meet Ordinance criteria for designation.
